Stennis Field development boosted by $697,500 grant

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

A $697,500 grant for the industrial park at Stennis International Airport has been awarded to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, U.S. Congressmen Trent Lott announced Wednesday.

The public works grant from the Economic Development Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, will help pay for installation of sewer collection and treatment facilities, a water well, storage tank and an access road.

Total cost of the project, Port and Harbor Commission Executive Director James DeBlanc said, is about $1,400,000.

A Housing and Urban Development grant will pay part of the costs, and the commission will provide the remainder, about $198,000.

"This work makes up the final components of the infrastructure for the new industrial park," Lott said, noting its potential for new jobs in Hancock County.

Lott said he was advised by U.S. Department of Commerce officials that

Smith and Smith Aircraft Co. has made a commitment to locate in the park and provide some 123 new jobs.

DeBlanc confirmed that announcement and said the company, which is based in New Orleans, La., will modify T-28 airplanes at the industrial park and will also manufacture parts for various aircraft.

"Commerce officials are hopeful the park will be able to draw high tech firms to the area because of its proximity to National Space Technology Laboratories," Lott said.

New 4-H youth agent seeks volunteer leaders

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

Gwen Elmore, new Bay St. Louis resident who began her job Tuesday as 4-H youth agent for Hancock County, is seeking volunteer leaders to help her maintain current programs and develop new ones.

A native of Greenwood, Elmore, 21, recently graduated from Mississippi State University with a degree in agricultural extension education.

Along with a new job, Elmore has a new office, at 725-A Dunbar Avenue next to Hancock General Hospital.

The extension offices, including those for the home economist and the county agent, all have moved into the newly-renovated building several weeks ago.

Elmore said she needs volunteer leaders to help with livestock projects, home economics projects, leadership development and community development.

"And I'd welcome ideas for new projects," she said.

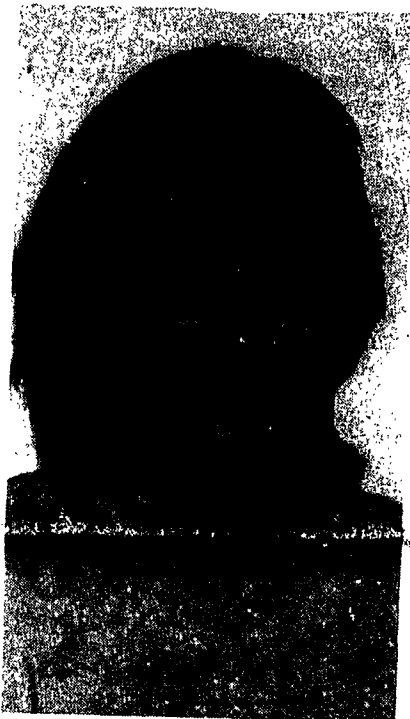

She would also like to hear from persons who are interested in forming new 4-H clubs for youths aged eight through 18.

A Nov. 1 workshop in Ellisville will provide training for volunteer leaders, and Elmore said travel expenses will be paid for participants from Hancock County.

Volunteers should call Elmore at 467-5456 for further information.

"People have really been helpful and considerate everywhere I've gone," Elmore said.

"I'm looking forward to working with 4-H youth programs throughout the county and meeting people in the community."

was $20 and the final bid was $925. Other high bids for the items auctioned included $725 for a woman's diamond ring, $260 for a 14-karat gold chain, $150 for two 14-karat gold wedding bands, $50 for a woman's sapphire ring and $520 for a 1977 Chevrolet pickup. ## Evaluator gives good marks to special education records

Several Hancock County School District employees have been singled out for their work in special education.

Gris Bowering, assistant state coordinator for the Mississippi Learning Resource System, reported to school trustees Tuesday on his July evaluation for the State Department of Education of the district's referral-to-placement process.

The review, conducted in July, focused on school records.

In November a second review will focus on programs.

At that time evaluators will visit classrooms and interview teachers and parents.

Jeannette Handshoe, the district's special education coordinator, said all school districts are evaluated every three years to ensure their compliance with regulations governing special education programs.

Bowering specifically commended Handshoe and School Nurse Evelyn Jacob.

Jacob conducts the physical examinations of all children referred to special education.

"The physical observation forms provided good documentation of health history," Bowering stated.

Handshoe, Bowering said, "was very cooperative and willing to improve in those areas where concerns were found."

"Her insight into alternative methods of dealing with district concerns and problems reflects a lot of time and hard work."

Bowering also said instructional interventions reflected good documentation and indicates regular teacher support in efforts to provide appropriate programming, teacher narratives were thorough and accurate and assessment team reports usually contained all of the required components.

"The availability of a word processor will speed up the process of report writing," he commented.

Also Tuesday, the board accepted a $10,100 bid from Melita of Scottsdale, Ariz. for a Sprintel call processing computer system.

The equipment, which is capable of automatically dialing thousands of calls daily, talking to people in a human voice and recording their responses, will be installed at the Hancock North Central complex but can be used by all the schools.

With four lines, the equipment can make four calls simultaneously and can be operated before, during and after school hours and during vacation periods.

Among other things, the system will

Competing engineers dispute Slidell firm's port contract

By DENA BISNETTE

The heads of two engineering firms presented testimony Tuesday protesting the selection of Borgen Engineering of Slidell, La. for an apron project at Stennis Airport.

Michael Smith, president of Advanced Development Inc., and Harry Simpkins of Simpkins and Costelli, appeared before a joint meeting of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission along with several representatives of the governor's staff to discuss their complaints.

The two had filed protests after the board of supervisors approved the employment of Borgen Engineering after its second round of advertising in May.

The employment of Borgen Engineering was approved on the recommendation of the Port and Harbor Commission.

The Governor's Office of State and Federal Programs became involved in the complaints because the project in question is partially funded with federal money.

Smith, who was the engineer of record for the commission at the time Borgen Engineering was hired, had submitted price quotations during both rounds of advertising.

However, he claimed his firm "was blackballed by the Port and Harbor Commission" during the executive session meeting in which the selection of an engineering firm for the apron project was discussed, although Borgen Engineering submitted a lower price quote.

"Our exhibits show freely that all the adverse publicity given to alleged overcharges on other projects ADI did for the commission had an adverse effect on our ranking in the second round," he said.

Exhibits included newspaper articles and a graph showing the ranking of all firms involved in both rounds.

Several of the newspaper stories concerned refusals by the Port and Harbor Commission and the supervisors to pay ADI fees and some contained adverse comments about the firm by public officials, Smith said.

Simpkins said his complaint was concerned with finding out why the commission chose to reject his firm's price quote. He said the commission did not provide him with sufficient information

Police eye suspect in auto theft case

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis Police have located a Bay St. Louis teenager believed to have been the driver of a stolen vehicle involved in a one-car accident on Dunbar Avenue early Saturday morning.

Murray Ladner, Bay police investigator and acting chief of police, Wednesday said, "A suspect has been located, but we can not release his name or location at this time because of the continuing nature of the investigation."

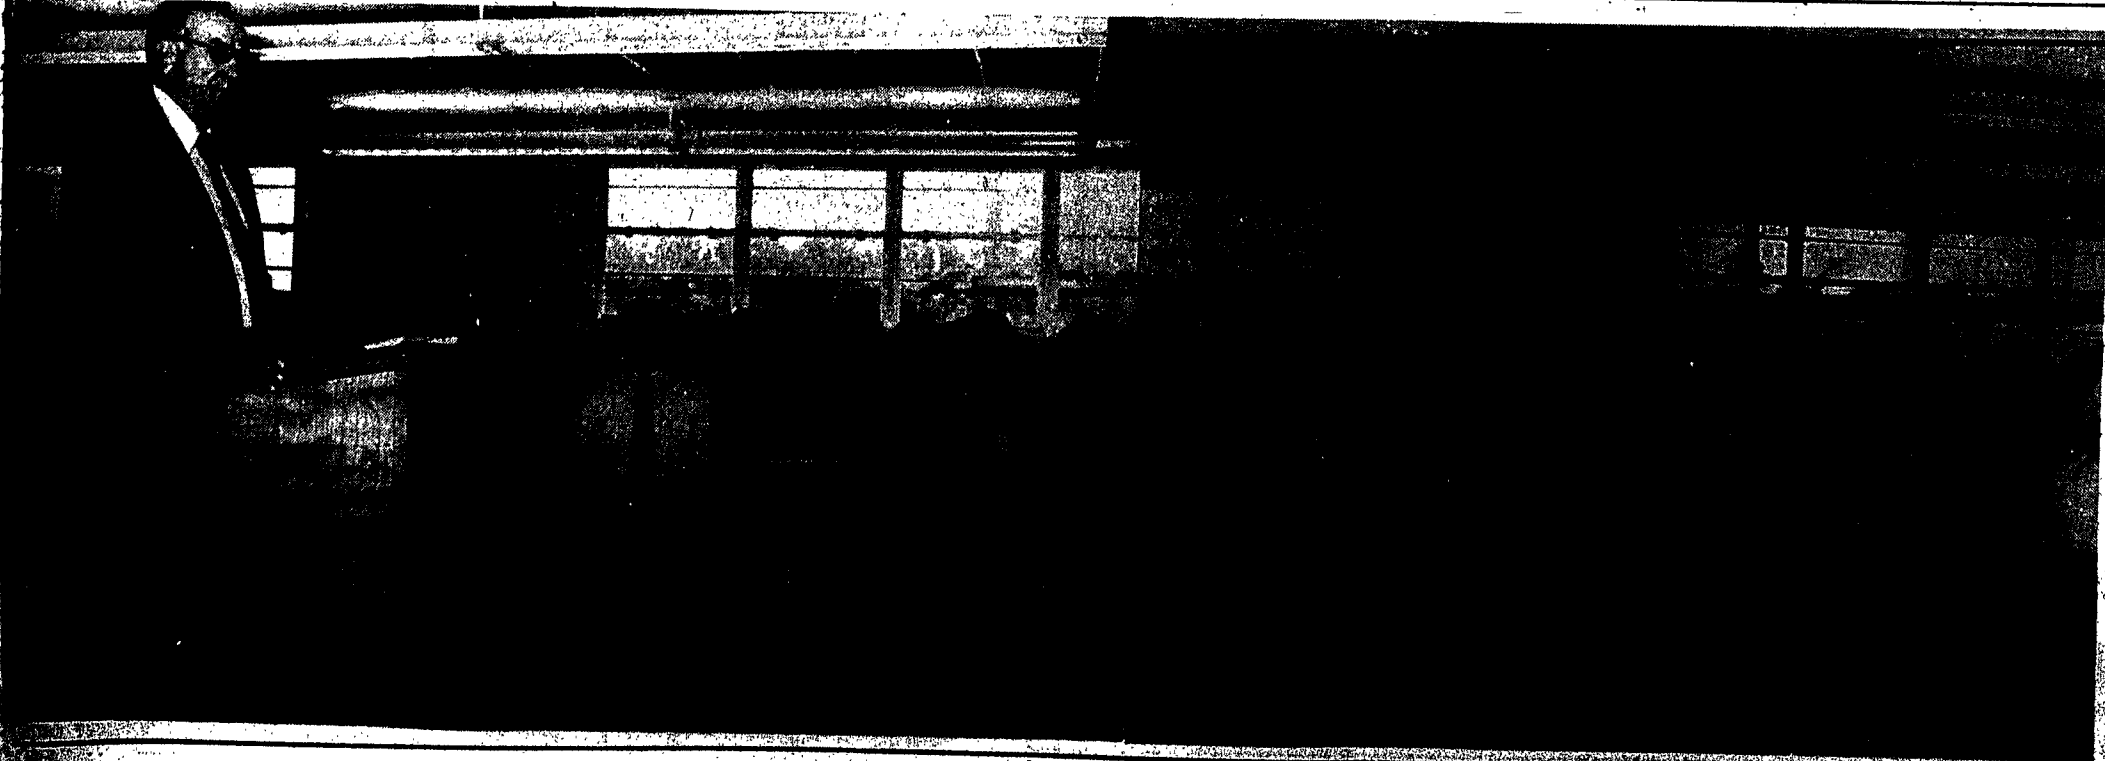

"We have a warrant for his arrest on charges of grand larceny auto, speeding, failure-to-yield to blue lights and siren, reckless driving, and resisting arrest," the officer reported.

Bay Police Captain Robert Butler on Saturday reported, "A red Corvette was involved in an accident on Dunbar Avenue and the driver fled the scene leaving a trail of blood."

"The vehicle traveling at a high rate of speed was being followed by Patrolman Scott Anderson who spotted it up-side-down in the middle of Dunbar Avenue near Melody Lane," Butler added.

Police Chief Douglas Williams said the owner of the stolen vehicle, Ronald J. Artigues of 546 Highland Drive, Bay St. Louis, had reported his red Corvette missing on Saturday morning.

Funeral services set Thursday for Labor Day drowning victim

A Gretna, La. man died Monday about 16 hours after being rescued from a Shoreline Park bayou, where he had been underwater for about 10 minutes.

Ernest Buzbee, 40, who was visiting his sister in Shoreline Park, at Route 3, Box 515, attempted to swim back and forth across the 40- to 50-foot wide bayou which parallels Mississippi 603, behind the home of Gene Gibson at the corner of the highway and Central Avenue at about 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

"On his way back, he went down," Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said. "He was underwater about 10 minutes before Gibson and some friends got him out. Deputy David Murtagh, assisted by passerby Susan LeBlanc, administered cardiopulmonary resuscitation and revived him."

Buzbee was taken to Hancock General Hospital, where he died about noon Monday in the intensive care unit, according to hospital spokesman Mary Perkins.

Funeral service will be conducted at 11 a.m. Thursday at Riemann Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis followed by burial in the Biloxi National Cemetery.

Sheriff's department still investigating shooting incident

By DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County Sheriff's Department investigators are trying to determine what caused a shooting incident in the Bayou LaCrosse area, while the victim recuperates in a Gulfport Hospital.

According to Sheriff Ronald Peterson, Sidney Johnson, 22, of Gulfport was wounded in the abdomen at about 12:30 a.m. Sunday.

Peterson said it is presently believed that Johnson was shot with a .22 rifle, although both a .22 and a 30.30 weapon were confiscated at the site where the shooting apparently occurred.

"A large group of people apparently had a swimming party at an abandoned pool in the Bayou LaCrosse area of the buffer zone," the sheriff explained, "and a fight apparently developed."

"We keep getting conflicting versions of the incident from the witnesses, so we may have to wait until the victim is well enough to question," he added.

Johnson was in critical condition Wednesday in the intensive care unit of Gulfport Memorial Hospital, according to the sheriff.

The sheriff said Delbert Seay is in charge of the investigation.

Highway Department to receive $5.5 million in federal funds

The Mississippi State Highway Department will receive an additional $5.5 million in federal funds, Director John R. Tabb, announced recently.

This additional funding will be used for urban systems and safety projects since there has been an accumulation of urban apportionments, he said.

Additional funds totalling $336 million became available after some states were unable to obligate their federal funds, Tabb said, and were required to return the funds to the federal government.

Other states were then allowed to request a portion of the total.

Requests for additional funds reached about $960 million, with 32 states receiving additional funding authority. The Mississippi State Highway Department originally requested $17 million.

Chamber asks increase in city contributions

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

The Waveland Board of Aldermen agreed Tuesday to increase the city's contribution to Hancock County Chamber of Commerce from $100 to $200 per month.

A Chamber delegation consisting of Executive Director Clarice Gustin, Industrial Chairman Dick Thomas, Membership Chairman Kathy Ladner and Vice President John Mason attended the aldermen's meeting to request the increase.

Thomas said the Chamber was asking both Waveland and Bay St. Louis to increase contributions to $250 per month.

Mayor John Longo noted the city budget has already been set.

"But I, for one, have been impressed with the work the Chamber has done," he added.

According to Thomas, the city paid $60 per month to the Chamber beginning in 1973, and increased the contribution to $100 per month in 1979.

"We feel the Chamber has continued to make progress," he said.

Gustin said the Chamber's base membership fee will be increased from $65 to $75 per year beginning Jan. 1.

The Chamber currently has about 425 members, she said.

The Chamber will also receive $20,000 from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors for fiscal year 1984-85.

Also Tuesday, the aldermen adopted a resolution authorizing the issuance of $551,733 in bonds, to be issued in increments of $1,000 and pay interest at a rate not to exceed 11 percent.

The bonds will be retired by the proceeds of a recently authorized one percent increase in city sales tax.

The purpose of the transaction is to satisfy a $500,000 judgment and legal obligations arising from a lawsuit brought against the city by Travelers Indemnity Co. several years ago in connection with a $2.3 million citywide sewerage installation project.

The city has appealed the judgment and the appeal is currently pending in the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

In other business, Clarence Harris reported on Saturday's back-to-school summerfest activities at Herlihy Street Park and said he would like to schedule other activities for youth periodically at Waveland's Civic Center.

The city officials also discussed repainting buildings and benches at the park, and Longo said the city would provide paint for a local artist to paint a mural on the outside walls of the building.

The aldermen agreed to hire Leonard Logan as playground and cemetery custodian.

Supervisors approve loan for vehicles

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has authorized an inter-departmental loan to the sheriff's department.

According to board attorney Walter Gex III, the loan comes from a special fund of about $80,000 set aside for that purpose but has to be repaid by the end of the fiscal year.

The fiscal year ends Sept. 30.

The loan cover cost overruns and the purchase of two automobiles.

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has authorized an inter-departmental loan to the sheriff's department.

According to board attorney Walter Gex III, the loan comes from a special fund of about $80,000 set aside for that purpose and must be repaid by the end of the fiscal year.

The loan, $19,626, covers the cost of two sheriff's department vehicles recently purchased by the county.

The vehicles were supposed to be paid for with the interest from a special account consisting of confiscated money from a Pearlington drug raid. However, those funds are not available yet.

Gex said at Tuesday's board meeting that the funds were supposed to be available when the county approved the purchase last month, but an Internal Revenue Service lien on the interest has to be released first.

Release is expected in the near future, Gex said, and the loan will be repaid at that time.

In other business, the board met with

Hancock General Hospital Board of Trustees attorney Robert Genin Jr. on a proposed resolution to allow the board to form a non-profit corporation.

Forming the corporation will assist the hospital in obtaining funding for new construction by making the board eligible for tax exemption, Genin said.

The board also passed a resolution commending the late Kenneth McCarty, former Hancock County superintendent of education.

The board's next meeting is Sept. 13.

ASCS will accept late acreage reports

Franklin A. Gennin, county executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS Office, said several farmers in Hancock and Pearl River Counties have not filed a crop report this year.

July 15 was the final day for farmers to report their 1984 planted acres.

"Late-filed acreage reports will be accepted as long as the farmer pays the cost of verifying the acreage and there is physical evidence of the crop," Gennin said.

Gennin said farmers who did not plant program crops this year should submit a "zero" report to protect their base and future farm program eligibility.

ASCS uses crop reports to determine program compliance and to document crop acreage bases.

Before program participants receive price support loans, deficiency payments and other benefits, they are required to report crops and acreages planted, the uses to be made of the crops, and cropland acres to be devoted to the acreage conservation reserve.

Do you know about the "Funeral Rule"?

A new Federal Trade Commission rule has just been passed that requires exacting pricing and disclosure procedures in the funeral industry.

The Edmond Fahey Funeral Home has always followed similar procedures. The Fahey Family was dedicated to educating the public regarding funerals for many years; and today we continue to carefully explain all funeral charges.

We show our selection of caskets, each displaying a price card. We explain about caskets, vaults, embalming, cremation and optional or alternate services we can provide.

We make sure that families understand all details of the funeral arrangements. It's the basis of our own standard of ethics; and why we have successfully served Hancock County families for over 50 years.

MAN-MADE PROBLEMS

To help remedy such man-made problems as erosion and overgrazing, wildlife managers are turning to the continent's largest rodent and nature's premiere dam-building —The North American beaver, reports 'National Wildlife' magazine. Some $100,000 erosion repairs by human engineers can be done for less than $5,000 by beavers under the supervision of wildlife managers.

With Mississippi's 1984 peach crop the largest our growers have had in the past 20 years, we can indulge to the fullest our cravings for this luscious fruit.

I'm glad that we have peaches, from our own state and others, in such plenty —and that they sell for much, much less than the $5 a piece which was their price in Queen Victoria's day in England —and somewhere I've read that the ancient Romans paid almost that much —the equivalent of $4.50 for a single peach!

Peaches are the third most important fruit crop in America, outranked only by apples and oranges. A favorite since the beginning of history, the peach is a native of China, whence it roamed through Asia in trade caravans, picking up the same "Persian Apple" along the way, in the trek through old Persia.

It is said that Spanish explorers brought the peach to the New World in the early 17th century, and planted the fruit in Mexico.

French settlers planted peaches in Louisiana; English colonists at Jamestown and in the Massachusetts Colony also planted the crop —and the Indians carried the peach tree inland, as well.

There are few things tastier, to me, than a sun-ripened peach plucked from the tree, or perhaps chilled awhile —or a bounty sliced fresh peaches atop a mound of homemade ice cream —or, I would go on and on.

Here in America we've been using fresh peaches in pies, cobblers, dumplings and other such dishes for a long, long time. But in many other countries, cooks often poach and bake or grill the peaches, either as a dessert, or as an accompaniment to ham or chicken —delicious!

I'm an old peach-stuffer from 'way back —it's easy. Just peel the peaches, after dropping them ever-so-briefly in boiling water. Halve, remove the pits, then;

STUFFED PEACHES

Fill the peach halves with fresh strawberries or other berries, sprinkle brown sugar over, cover with meringue, and bake at 450° for 5 to 20 minutes, or until meringue is golden.

Or—

Fill the halves with grated cheddar cheese, bake or broil and serve with chicken or ham. Or—

For dessert, fill the halves with orange marmalade and bake at 400° for five minutes, then top each half with a marshmallow and bake for another five minutes.

And, for a treat with baked ham or duck or turkey, try:

GRILLED PEACHES

Peel, halve and pit 6 ripe peaches, then brush the cut halves with softened butter, dot butter into each cavity, and coat the halves with sugar. Broil the peaches until a glaze forms, then sprinkle with lemon juice.

And, when you've a few almost over-ripe peaches, slice them and heap them upon your buttered toast for a breakfast delight. Or chop them up well and mix with softened butter, for a delicious peach butter for toast or biscuits or pancakes or waffles.

Fritz Hollings to speak at Winter fundraiser

Former Democratic Presidential contender Sen. Ernest F. "Fritz" Hollings will be featured speaker at a fundraiser for senatorial candidate William Winter later this month.

The South Carolina senator will appear with Winter at a Sept. 17 fundraising dinner in Tupelo.

"William Winter knows what it takes to balance a budget. He did it as governor."

"We need his kind of experience in the United States Senate," Hollings said from his Washington office.

Hollings added that he looked forward to welcoming Winter to the Senate.

"Senator Hollings has been a New South senator of great vision and courage," Winter said.

"He represents the kind of nonsense, straight-talking leadership that we need more of in the Senate. I am obviously very pleased to have his endorsement."

Hollings serves as the ranking

Democrat on the Senate Commerce Committee and is a senior member and former chairman of the Senate Budget Committee.

The former South Carolina governor had been a member of the Senate since 1966.

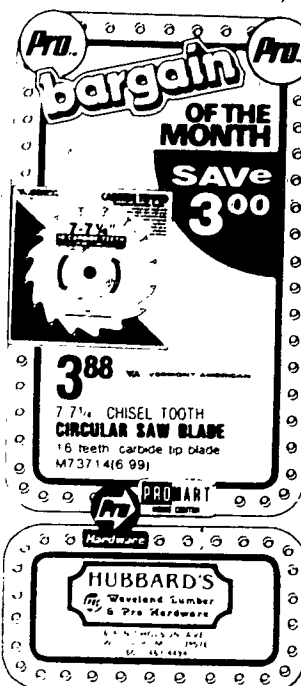

The Monday night dinner will be held at 7 p.m. at the Ramada Inn Convention Center. A minimum contribution of $25 is requested.

Tickets may be purchased by contacting Rupelo Mayor Jimmie Caldwell at 841-6513.

Quotables by Cuevas

The cooler weather was refreshing on Wednesday morning, and also tells us that Fall will soon be fast upon us.

Summer seems to have leaped by this year, and we had a lot of high humidity days due to the numerous rains.

Homeowners did a lot of grass cutting because of the moisture and lack of any extended dry periods.

The annual Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon received pledges of more than $32 million nationally for a record over the Labor Day period.

Jimmy Lagasse, telethon general chairman for Hancock and West Harrison counties reports his group received pledges for over $4,430 by the end of the telethon.

Lagasse is still taking pledges and hopes to reach a $6,000 total for the area.

The work by the Waveland Civic Association, of which Lagasse is president, and everyone involved, is really appreciated and goes to a very worthwhile cause.

Appreciation goes to everyone who supported the Muscular Dystrophy Telethon through making a pledge, donating time, and helping in any other way.

Local high school football season begins on Friday night.

Early indications are that all teams could be contenders in their respective conferences and this should add to the excitement.

Bay High's Tigers open with a visit from Stone County's Tomcats in Tiger Stadium Friday night.

Cleveland Williams is new head mentor for the Tiger squad. Stone County, with numerous returning lettermen, will be a big test for Bay High. Stone is always ready for the Bay team.

The Tigers finished last season with a 9-2 record under the leadership of Coach James (Snuffy) Smith who left coaching and teaching for private business.

Williams will be trying to maintain his impressive record as a coach. He had many winning seasons at Bay Junior High as head mentor.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central will journey to Rock-A-Chaw stadium Friday night to test St. Stanislaus.

Irvin Favre, the Hawk's veteran head mentor, will be trying to fill several key positions left vacant from last year's team due to graduation.

Stanislaus' head coach Vernon Powell should have the Rocks ready for the Hawks.

The Rock-A-Chaws have a large number of returning lettermen and should have a good squad.

The Pirates of Pass Christian, like Bay High, also have a new head coach in Alton Wright.

Coach Wright will get the extreme test when they host a strong d'Iberville Friday night in Pirate stadium.

With all local teams in action Friday, we hope there will be a large attendance for the season opening kick-offs.

We hope to see many of you on Friday at Bay High's Tiger, St. Stanislaus' Rock-A-Chaw, and Pass Christian stadiums.

Kick-offs are at 7:30 p.m.—Good luck to every team.

SUCCESSFUL TELETHON—The Waveland Civic Association participated in the Annual Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon by receiving pledges from Hancock and West Harrison Counties. Jimmy Lagasse, general chairman for the local telethon, reported his group collected $4,430 during the television time and is still taking pledges in hopes of reaching a total of $6,000. Among the many local volunteers helping at Waveland City Hall were from left, Theresa Herbert, Phil Lagasse, Jimmy Lagasse, Judy Bergeron, and Louis Smolensky. As the telethon ended Jerry Lewis announced a record $32 million was pledged. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

THE ALBANY PLAN:
BEN FRANKLIN'S PROPOSAL FOR A COLONIAL UNION
EDITOR'S NOTE: Author J. Jackson Barlow is editor of 'The New Federalist Papers.'

His theme here is Ben Franklin's Albany Plan of 1754, the first "home-grown" proposal for a national constitutional government in America.

Benjamin Franklin is best known for flying his kite in a thunderstorm. But Franklin's genius was not confined to his electrical research.

He was also famous for his statesmanship, first in the colonies and later in the young nation.

He was a colonial representative to Parliament, a member of the Congress that drafted the Declaration of Independence, ambassador to France and delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

More than 30 years before the Convention, Franklin proposed a government for the colonies that foreshadowed the convention's work.

By J. Jackson Barlow
On June 19, 1754, delegates from seven of Britain's thirteen North American colonies met at Albany, New York. This meeting produced the first proposal for a central government for the colonies, and was thus the first step in American constitutionalism.

The delegates had gathered to discuss an emergency: frequent and deadly French and Indian attacks on their frontiers. But the result of the Albany Congress went far beyond this. The delegates voted unanimously for a plan, drafted by Benjamin Franklin, that contained many of the features of our present constitutional system.

Naturally, the Albany Plan was a federal plan, that is, one that called for a division of labor and authority between the colonial governments and the central government. But the central government was intended to be a strong one, and it would have had—significantly—an independent source of revenue.

Franklin's plan provided a central government composed of a President-General and a Grand Council. The President-General was to be appointed by the King, and he would be responsible, in conjunction with the council, for Indian affairs and the maintenance of the military. He was also to have a veto power over all acts of the Grand Council.

The Grand Council was to contain, initially, 48 members, chosen by the legislatures of the colonies. In a departure from a strictly federal organization, the members were to be apportioned according to population and they were to vote as individuals and not as colonies. After three years, the number of representatives from each colony would be determined by the amount of taxes paid by the colony—an incentive for each colony to pay its full share.

The plan gave the general government power over those matters which were common to all the colonies—defense against Indians, taxation, and the regulation of new settlements. It did not interfere with the constitutions of particular colonies, or prevent them from adopting their own laws.

The new central government was to have no power over the colonies' governments or their actions, except in one area: The central government was to appoint a treasurer in each colony, with the power to order money out of the colony's treasury and into the central treasury.

Franklin's plan was unanimously approved by the colonies; representatives at Albany. But it was rejected by both the colonial governments and by the king. As Franklin later wrote in his Autobiography, the colonists found it had too much of the royal power in it, while the king thought it too democratic.

Franklin was deeply disappointed. In his autobiography, he even went so far as to say that if his Albany Plan had not failed, the American Revolution probably would not have occurred.

Following this failure, the events that led to the American Revolution began to unfold. The colonies, lacking the means to provide for their common defense, came to rely on the British government.

The British government, which had a war in Europe to run, began to look for revenue from the colonies to pay the bill. This led to various taxing acts, leading up to the Stamp Act and other taxes the colonists found intolerable. From the opposition to those taxes was born the American Revolution.

Perhaps Franklin was right, and a timely adoption of his plan could have prevented the Revolution. But when the Revolution did come, Franklin was in the forefront.

He helped draft the Declaration of Independence, the Articles of Confederation, and the Constitution. His wisdom helped move American down the constitutional road, one which after 1776 was founded on the natural rights of all men. Franklin's Albany Plan was the first, tentative, step toward a distinctively American constitutionalism.

Heart Answers

WHAT IS CONGENITAL HEART DISEASE?

Congenital heart disease is the abnormal development of the heart before a child is born. A congenital heart defect may be diagnosed at birth or it may be discovered at some time during childhood in a routine physical examination. Some defects may be caused by drugs taken during pregnancy or exposure to German measles (rubella) during pregnancy. They may be inherited, or the cause may be unknown. Congenital heart defects may require only minimal medical supervision or they may require corrective surgery to avoid complications later in life. Some congenital heart defects can be prevented by vaccination of the mother against rubella prior to pregnancy and by following a doctor's advice while taking medications during pregnancy. Contact your local American Heart Association for more information.

Memo from George Dale, Mississippi Insurance Commissioner.

The Mississippi Insurance Department—In Business to Serve You.

The Mississippi Insurance Department is organized for your protection. Every facet of the department exists to ensure that the insurance product you purchase in this state is a fair, equitable and sound investment for your money.

The Insurance Department is charged with the responsibility to oversee all the insurance laws in the State of Mississippi as they apply to insurance companies, corporations, associations, agents, and citizens. The major functions within the department are separated by divisions.

The licensing division of the Insurance Department is responsible for the issuance of privilege licenses and certificates of authority to approximately 1600 insurance companies and 28,000 agents in the state of Mississippi. It also licenses all motor clubs, bail bondsmen, burial associations and agents. This licensing division administers all examinations to applicants qualified for a license—about 450 examinations each month.

The second largest division in the insurance department is the claims and complaints division. This division assists the general public in obtaining settlement of claims and complaints against insurance companies. In 1983, this division assisted policyholders in receiving over $2 million dollars in disputed claims and premium refunds.

The examination division is responsible for auditing companies that do business within the state to insure their solvency and compliance with laws of the State. The next important function under this department is the fire marshal's office. This division is charged with the investigation of fires of a suspicious nature (666 investigations in 1983). The inspection of buildings and public facilities under the newly enacted state fire code is also a responsibility of this division. It also inspects mobile homes, dealers and manufacturers (2,534 in 1983). Another division of the insurance department is responsible for the inspection of liquified compressed gas dealers operating in Mississippi.

These are but a few of the functions of the Mississippi Insurance Department.

News From The Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Allain

Gov. Bill Allain has notified the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) that Mississippi will participate in the Rental Rehabilitation Program to upgrade rental properties and help low-income families pay their rent.

The two-year program was approved by Congress last year to assure an adequate supply of affordable housing for low-income tenants. There will be $150 million available nationwide in both fiscal 1984 and 1985 for upgrading rental units, and 30,000 vouchers and certificates will be given to low-income tenants each year to help with their rent payments.

Mississippi will receive $850,700 the first year for upgrading rental units, and approximately 169 vouchers. The Governor's Office of Community Development has submitted a program proposal to HUD outlining the state's plans for the money and vouchers.

The money for upgrading rental properties will be paid to property owners in low-income neighborhoods. According to program guidelines, at least 70 percent of the units in rehabilitated properties must be occupied by tenants classified as low-income, and funds must be targeted to neighborhoods where the median income is 80 percent or less of the median income for the area.

Program participation is restricted to cities or communities not eligible for the federal government's Rural Housing Preservation Grant Program. HUD had declared 23 Mississippi cities eligible to apply for participation, with the possibility that others will be added.

Cities declared eligible are Biloxi, Clarksdale, Clinton, Columbus, Greenville, Greenwood, Gulfport, Hattiesburg, Laurel, Long Beach, Madison, Meridian, Moss Point, Natchez, Ocean Springs, Pascagoula, Pass Christian, Pearl, Petal, Ridgeland, Southaven, Tupelo and Vicksburg.

Allain notified Clifton Brown, administrator for HUD's Atlanta Regional Office, of the state's desire to participate in the rehabilitation program. The governor stated in his letter to Brown, "I am very pleased that HUD is offering this program to the states. The goals and priorities established for the program correspond very closely to those set by this administration for our state. While it will be a new undertaking for Mississippi, I am confident that we can develop a program designed to meet our particular needs."

Mississippi's allocation for the second year will be determined by how efficiently the state administers the program and targets the funding for low-income residents during the first year. HUD has notified the state that second-year funding will be made available later this year.

NOVEMBER CAN'T BE FAR

The tumult and shouting are over, the bluster and balloons have disappeared, and it's time to go to work.

This is the message to the American people as Labor Day rolls around. The primaries are behind us, the platforms have been adopted, the conventions are over.

Now the work begins in the trenches—the door-to-door treks through the neighborhoods, the telephone banks, the local rallies, the radio and television appeals, the letter writing. In short, this is the real Campaign '84, when the American people—Democrats, Republicans, Independents, and perhaps a few others—get involved in the election of the President of the United States.

One of the goals of the Mississippi Economic Council is greater public participation in government, and one way to realize this goal is to encourage greater participation in the election process.

Not only are Mississippians helping to elect a President this year, but we are electing a U.S. Senator and an entire delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives.

The message is clear: Labor Day is here and November can't be far behind. Let's get to work.

Take

Family Physician

BY DR. JAMES G. PRICE

Q. Do you have any idea as to what might make my heart beat too hard and fast sometimes? I've been checked by a doctor and he says that there's no physical reason for it and that I should "calm down." I've tried and it didn't help. Should I take some tranquilizer?

A. There are many possible causes for a rapid heart beat, including hyperthyroidism, tumors of the adrenal gland, viral inflammation of the heart muscle itself, anemia, and infection. So all these possible causes and others should be ruled out as being at the root of your problems.

Anxiety is an important cause of a rapid pulse — indeed it may be the most common cause. Strangely enough, an individual may not be consciously aware that anxiety exists, even though it is sufficient to increase the pulse rate. You might find it helpful to try concentrated relaxing exercises. To do this, you sit down in a comfortable chair, making sure that your arms and legs are well supported. Then close your eyes, and very consciously, focus your thoughts on relaxing each part of your body in turn. Once you are relaxed, concentrate on taking in very deep breaths and slowly exhaling while repeating to yourself some simple word. Many people simply repeat the word "one."

It's been well documented that both pulse and blood pressure can be decreased by this exercise, and the improvement may last for several hours. So using this exercise three or four times a day may serve to maintain a slower pulse.

Q. My heart isn't functioning too well and as a result I have to take diuretic pills to keep from retaining fluid. Since I began them I've been bothered by muscle cramps which often wake me up at night. Does this mean that something else is going wrong?

A. You have a symptom that is common in people who take diuretics. Along with the water loss that occurs, calcium levels can also be changed, and cramps may result. Changing diuretics or reducing the dose may provide relief, and sometimes increasing the calcium in the diet may get rid of the cramps. Tell your doctor about your cramps, and I'll bet he'll be able to help you.

GCRL announces plans for "Super Saturday"

The Gulf Coast Research Laboratory invites the public to take part in Year of the Ocean "Super Saturday" activities planned for Sept. 8 at the J.L. Scott Marine Education Center on East Beach in Biloxi.

Catherine Campbell, public information officer, said the day's agenda includes a musical program, a public seminar, time to browse new exhibits in the lobby and the aquarium room and live animal display, time to picnic or have lunch in the area, and a short puppet show for "children of all ages."

An outdoor concert will be performed from 10 to 11 a.m. by the Blue Edition from Keesler AFB. This group is composed of 18 professional musicians who are members of the 502nd U.S. Air Force Band of the Gulf Coast, headquartered on the Biloxi base.

In the seventh Year of the Ocean seminar beginning at 11 a.m. Dr. Thomas D. McIlwain will explore the question: "Do we know how to use the ocean's living resources?"

McIlwain is assistant director for fisheries research and management at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

In addition to giving present and predicted levels of seafood production for Gulf waters, McIlwain may divulge information on the future of the traditional Gulf Coast fishing industries, including proposals for new uses to add value and status to products now looked down on.

A native of Pascagoula, McIlwain received a doctorate in zoology, master's degree in zoology, and a bachelor's degree in psychology-biology from the University of Southern Mississippi.

At the laboratory, he was named assistant director in charge of the fisheries program in 1978. Prior to that he headed the anadromous fishes section for 12 years.

Before joining the GCRL staff, McIlwain was an instructor of biology while in graduate school and was a science teacher at St. Martin High School in Biloxi.

At noon, there will be a break in planned activities so guests may picnic in the Gulf Marine State Park next door to the Center, have lunch in the area, or spend time viewing the aquarium exhibits.

Several new exhibits are in the process of being installed at the Center, Campbell said, including some on loan from the Naval Oceanographic Office at NSTL in Hancock County and from the National Marine Fisheries Service's Mississippi Laboratories.

One display will feature about 30 dried crabs presented in a setting simulating nature. This display is being arranged by Harriet Perry, a crab biologist at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

In addition to the animals, display panels in the lobby will have information and illustrations on the biology of the blue crab (Callinectes sapidus), the crab fishery and crabbing industries in the area, Perry said.

Crab pots used to capture both blue crabs and stone crabs will be shown. Also on display in the lobby will be a hand-constructed wooden rowboat made of juniper by the late Dudley Andrews of Biloxi and a penguin dinghy also built by Andrews. Both boats are owned by John Ogle of the GCRL oyster biology section staff.

The puppet show is planned for 2 p.m. and will last about 10 minutes, according to Clarence Hamilton, the puppeteer. Hamilton is a marine education specialist at the Marine Education Center.

The program, to be given in the Center auditorium, is called "A Visit with Sammy, the Smiling Snake."

State Auditor clarifies policy on turnarounds

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
State Auditor Ray Mabus has clarified his policy requiring "easements" for school bus turnarounds.

Hancock County School District Superintendent Terrell Randolph advised school trustees Tuesday that Mabus has sent a memorandum to boards of supervisors in followup to his Aug. 14 memorandum regarding work on private property.

"The word 'easement'...has been interpreted by some supervisors as requiring a survey to be conducted of the property," Mabus said in his Aug. 29 message.

"That was not the intent of this office." According to the new memorandum, the only legal way boards of supervisors can maintain private driveways as school bus turnarounds is by obtaining a temporary easement from the landowner involved for the limited and special public purpose of providing for a turnaround for school buses at the end of a route.

Each granting of easement should be recorded in the board's minutes, along with the location and general description of the site, notice of approval by the local school board and acceptance and approval of the supervisors.

Mabus said the approval of school bus turnarounds should be made annually prior to the beginning of a school term.

The policy also applies to private driveways of school bus drivers who keep school buses at their private residences.

Bay attorney named to board

Bay St. Louis attorney Walter J. Gex III has been named to the Board of Bar Commissioners of the Mississippi State Bar.

The Board of Bar Commissioners is the governing body of the Mississippi State Bar which includes some 4,900 attorneys.

The Board is composed of statewide elected officers as well as a representatives from each of Mississippi's 20 Circuit Court districts.

Gex attended the University of Mississippi and graduated from the University of Mississippi Law School in 1963.

He is a member of the Hancock County and American Bar Associations, the Mississippi State Bar and the Mississippi Trial Lawyers Association.

Gex is a partner in the firm of Gex, Gex and Phillips of Bay St. Louis.

Extension Service offices relocate to Dunbar

The former County Home building at 725-A Dunbar Ave. in Bay St. Louis has become home to five governmental agencies.

The Hancock County operations of Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service this week became the latest tenants to set up shop in the facility.

They include Home Economist Darleen Underwood, County Agent Lee Taylor, Forester David Watts and 4-H Youth Agent Gwen Elmore.

Also recently located in the building are the reappraisal personnel of the Hancock County Assessor-Tax Collector's Office.

"This move ends 32 years in our former location in the Agriculture Building at 405 Nicaise Avenue in Bay St. Louis," said Extension Service secretary Ethel Favre.

The Extension Service telephone number remains 467-5456, she noted.

The new offices are located to the left side and to the rear of Hancock General Hospital, with access to the offices gained via the hospital's emergency room driveway.

BAYOU CADET HEARING—A group of people who attended a Tuesday night hearing on the possibility of applying for a grant to construct a harbor at Bayou Cadet listen to a presentation by State Senator Gene Taylor. Taylor discussed funding for the project and what facilities the proposed harbor should have with about 25 fishermen and the board of supervisors. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Bayou Cadet hearing draws 25 fishermen

By DENA BISNETTE

A hearing on the possibility of constructing a harbor at Bayou Cadet drew about 25 fishermen to the courthouse Tuesday night.

The hearing was held because the county is considering applying for a $500,000 grant, to be matched with $500,000 to be raised through local revenue bonds, to pay for the construction of boat slips and other facilities for commercial fishermen and private boat owners.

According to State Senator Gene Taylor, who originated the project, the bonds will be repaid with revenue from boat slip rentals.

Taylor told the fishermen and the board of supervisors that the facility would be similar to the harbor at Pass Christian.

"It's been working for them for about 30 years now," he said. "It would be good to have one like it here."

SENATOR GENE TAYLOR

However, he stressed that the hearing was being held to collect public input about the harbor. "I'd like to know what you want to have there," Taylor said.

Several of the fishermen expressed concern about building the harbor at Bayou Cadet instead of in a more sheltered area.

"I wouldn't want to take my boat out there," and I know these other men wouldn't either, if I knew I couldn't get to it if a storm came up," said fisherman Bob Metz. He explained that the only road accessing Bayou Cadet floods during bad weather.

Supervisor Sam Pernicaro said the board plans to raise the road if a harbor is constructed.

There was also some question concerning whether the facility would need a loading dock. "Since we already have an existing infrastructure of people buying from the fishermen, do we need one?" Taylor asked.

Fisherman Ronnie Ferrell said there is an area presently under lease that may become available for use as a loading area.

Other questions discussed included the possibility of doing about six feet of dredging between the first and fourth beacons at Bayou Cadet to establish a control depth of 12 feet. This would allow larger boats to use the harbor.

Several people also expressed an interest in including a launch for smaller boats, like skiffs, in the harbor facilities.

Taylor said he would take the information collected to Bureau of Marine Resources. That agency is expected to assist with the project, he said.

Supervisors find water speed limits still controversial

By DENA BISNETTE

Public opinion is still split on whether a speed limit should be established on certain county waterways, according to statements and two petitions submitted to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors at a public hearing Tuesday.

About 80 people attended the hearing, although the supervisors had already issued an order on the matter and then had to rescind it because of improper procedure.

According to board attorney Walter Gex, a state law says the supervisors are not authorized to set speed limits. Instead, they must recommend them to the Department of Wildlife Conservation, which then holds a public hearing. The commission has the final responsibility for setting the limits.

One of the petitions, submitted by Lucien Gex on behalf of 285 people supporting the idea of a speed limit, asks the board to recommend a 10 mph limit north of Devil's Elbow on Rotten Bayou.

Rotten Bayou is one of the areas considered in the board's original speed limit resolution. Also included were the canal leading into the Diamondhead Yacht Club, canals in Shoreline Park and the Jourdan River west of Highway 603.

The other petition, submitted by Richard Diamond, a representative of the Purcell Company in Diamondhead and a group of citizens, was signed by 200 to 300 people opposed to the speed limits.

Both groups submitted evidence in the form of maps and photographs. The maps were used to show how wide the waterways are with regard to the safety of waterskiers and fishermen.

The photographs were used to show land erosion, a major source of controversy between those who want the speed limits and those who do not.

Those who favor speed limits claim the erosion is caused by abnormally high wakes thrown by boats passing at high speed, particularly those hauling waterskiers. People who are against the limits claim it is caused by flooding and other natural means.

Complaints from those who favor establishing limits ranged from lack of courtesy on the part of the speeders to concern for swimmers and people in small boats.

Small boat owners also complained that any boat moored parallel is thrown against the bank when a speeding boat creates a high wake. People who favored the speed limits included members of the Shoreline Park Civic Association and the Diamondhead Boat Owners Association.

Those against setting speed limits contended that limits would interfere with the recreational use of the Jourdan River, creating areas where waterskiing would become impossible.

Several said increased patrolling of the waterways in question would be a better tool for curbing violators than creating speed limits.

About 30 of the 80 people in attendance made comments during the 90-minute hearing. The supervisors are expected to consider those comments and take some type of action when they meet again on Sept. 13.

SAFETY FACTORS—Attorney Richard Diamond, representing citizens who do not want speed limits placed on local waterways, shows the board of supervisors a map showing the width of some of the waterways in question. Speed limit proponents claim some of them are so narrow that speed limits should be imposed for safety reasons. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Ducksworth to call Eagle signals

After two seasons as the understudy of USM All-American quarterback Reggie Collier, Robert Ducksworth earned the starting job last season as the Eagles No. One signal-caller and led the squad to a 7-4 record. The Biloxi resident will most likely be behind the controls again when USM opens the 1984 season on Sept. 8 against University of Georgia.

"Just getting use to playing again was the hardest part," Ducksworth said about last season. "I had sat out for two years since my high school career. It was kind of difficult to step back into a starting role and it took a while to get adjusted."

He actually adjusted quickly, completing 71 of 141 passes for 1,201 yards and seven touchdowns, while throwing just eight interceptions. He also rushed for an additional 389 yards and scored four touchdowns.

The 1984 season would have originally been Duck's senior year, but because he had played in only a couple of games his freshman year, he received an extra year of eligibility from the NCAA.

"I'm looking forward to that," Duck says. "Hopefully I can take advantage of it and go out and have a good year."

While Ducksworth's play might be one of the keys to offensive success this season for the Golden Eagles, they must first replace several starters from last year's squad. Gone are flanker Louis Lipps, a first round draft pick of the NFL's Pittsburgh Steelers, fullbacks Neal Alexander and Clemon Terrell, tight ends Mike Landrum and Jim Brown, offensive linemen Steve Carmody, Glen Howe and Dwayne Massey.

Although these players will be missed, Ducksworth believes the Eagles have the potential to have another good offensive team in 1984.

"Coming out of the spring everyone look real sharp," he commented. "The people who stepped in looked like they were capable of helping us win. I feel like the people filled those gaps are going to go over there (to Georgia) and do a good job for us on Sept. 8."

The Eagles will be playing Georgia for the first time since 1983, when USM upset the Bulldogs 14-0 in Jackson. Even though Georgia was ranked in the top five last season and has posted a 43-4-1 record the past four seasons, Ducksworth believes the Eagles will be ready in the season opener.

"Georgia is a highly respected team. They have great tradition and a great coaching staff," says Ducksworth. "but I feel like we are going to go over there and given them a battle for their lives."

SSC, Bay and Pass High Stadiums to be sites of Friday night action

Three local bouts to open high school football season

The 1984 high school football season opens Friday night in Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian.

Bay St. Louis Senior High opens with a home game against Stone County in Tiger Stadium.

According to Head Coach Cleveland Williams, offensive starters for the first game will probably include center and team captain Jerry Head; guards Trace McRaney and Kevin James; tackles Phillip Hart and Patrick Whavers; tight end Robert Hargett or Geja Carter; split end Eddie Nelson; wingback Mark Fairconnetue; running back Willie Lewis; fullback Chester Barlow and quarterback Jeffrey Smith.

Defensive starters will probably include tackles Jay Ginn and Kevin James; ends Jerry Head and Robert Hargett; linebackers Chester Barlow, Trace McRaney, Phillip Hart and Richard Whavers; cornerbacks Eddie Nelson and Dennis Dear; and free safety Willie Lewis.

The Tigers lost two players to injury before the season began, including offensive and defensive tackle Craig Breland, who is out for the season, and linebacker and tight end Stace McRaney.

Williams said the team is young on the line but added that the Tigers have been working "extremely hard" in preparation for Friday night's game.

"We are looking for a lot of success out of receivers, seniors Eddie Nelson and Richard Whavers, who had a tremendous season last year," he said. "We also have Matt Fairconnetue and Dennis Dear, who are both good receivers."

Jeffery Smith, who started for the Tigers last year, returns as quarterback and is backed by Quentin Bell.

Willie Lewis, Chester Barlow and Matt Fairconnetue will serve as running backs.

Linemen include seniors Jerry Head, Phillip Hart, Kevin James and Jay Ginn; juniors Trace McRaney and Patrick Whavers; and sophomores Butch Pierce, Greg Necaise and Danny Carter.

"Our linemen this year will be smaller and quicker. Even though some had playing time last year, we will still be lacking experience in some positions," Williams said.

One position being filled by sophomores is tight end. Robert Hargett and Geja Carter have been working to gain experience, the coach said, and are skilled in blocking and catching the ball.

HNC vs SSC

Other season opening games Friday include a county rivalry, Hancock North Central against St. Stanislaus at St. Stanislaus.

According to Hancock North Central Head Coach Irvin Favre, much of the scoring in the game will probably be based on which team makes fewer errors, since it is a season opener.

In addition, Favre's Hawks lost most of their skill players through graduation last year, and inexperienced players are now filling those positions. "We're rebuilding our backfield," he explained.

The starting lineup for the offensive team Friday night will probably include center Steve Weisler, guards Drew Malley and Billy Davis, tackles Norris Chaisson and Donald Anderson, tight end Steve McQueen, split end Tony Guidry; flanker Walter Acker, quarterback Melton Lewis, fullback Stanley Jordan and tailback Charles Burton.

Defensive starters are expected to include tackles Scott Curet and Brian Necaise; ends Byron Ladner and Billy Davis; linebackers Steve McQueen, Louis Burton, Stanley Jordan and Drew Malley; and defensive backs Melton Lewis, Charles Burton and Frank Ladner.

LOUIS BURTON, 5' 9", 198-lb. HNC junior fullback

"Both teams will be hitting hard. It should be a good, exciting football game, and we're expecting a packed stadium," Favre said.

The season also opens Friday for the Pass Christian Pirates, who play D'Iberville at Pass Christian.

All three games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Governor's Cup run set for Sept. 22

The annual Governor's Cup five-mile run will be Sept. 22 in Jackson.

The run, which is on the Mississippi Track Club Grand Prix Schedule, will begin at 8 a.m. near the governor's mansion and follow a course through downtown Jackson.

The race includes a walker's division and a wheelchair division in addition to various age divisions in men's and women's categories.

Early registration deadline is Sept. 15. Late registration will be accepted between Sept. 15 and race day by mail or between 6:30 and 7:30 a.m. on race day at Smith Park.

More registration information is available from Bob Coleman at 924-6763 or James Myrick at 856-4924 after 5 p.m.

HORSE SHOW—The 1984 Greater Gulf State Fair Horse Show will be held Oct. 13 and 20 in Mobile, Ala. Events will include 31 English-Western Pleasure, Hunter-Jumper and Walking.

Junior highs open season Thursday

The junior high school football season opens in Hancock County Thursday with Hancock North Central facing St. Stanislaus.

The game will begin at 6 p.m. at Hancock North Central.

According to Hancock Head Coach Joe Shaw, the Hancock team is smaller than last year, when it won the Deep South Conference Championship and the county championship.

"We lost a lot of experienced players to the high school, so we're expecting a tough game against Stanislaus," Shaw said.

"We're real young this year," he added.

However, he said his team beat Stanislaus 12-6 the last time the game was played at Hancock and may be able to use the home field advantage again. The starters for Hancock will probably include center Jerry Peterson, guards Jim Eastridge and Allan Prince, tackles Paul Avery and Larry Beech, tight end Byron Peterson, split end Tony Hickman, wingback Donald Vince, quarterback Jeff Moran, fullback Casey Hoda or Bernard Burton, and tailback Vincent Cuevas.

Coaches this year at Hancock Junior High include Shaw, assistant coach Terry Payne and backfield coach Ray Bellard.

Ole Miss rebuilds defense

Unlike a year ago when Billy Brewer's first Ole Miss team began the season with several question marks on offense, the 1984 Rebels must fill key spots on the defensive side of the football.

Top losses on defense include third team All-America tackle Andre Townsend, and Carl Lewis, linebackers Dwayne Nesmith and Thomas Hubbard, strong safety Joe Hall and free safety Roger Clark.

Defensive starters back will be tackle Bob Blakemore, nose guard Terry Williamson, All-SEC end Freddie Nunn, and cornerbacks Eric Truitt and Lee Davis.

Offensively, Brewer must replace tailback Buford McGee, quarterback

Kelly Powell and right guard John Allen.

Starters back on offense include split end Timmy Moffett, interior lineman Eric Sheehan, Bobby Clark, Wayne Pierce, and Greg Walker, tight end Michael Smith, fullback Arthur Humphrey and flanker Jamie Holder.

Also back is quarterback Kent Austin, who started the first eight games last year before giving way to Powell. Austin led the 1983 Rebels in passing by completing 107 of 211 attempts for 1,077 yards and three touchdowns.

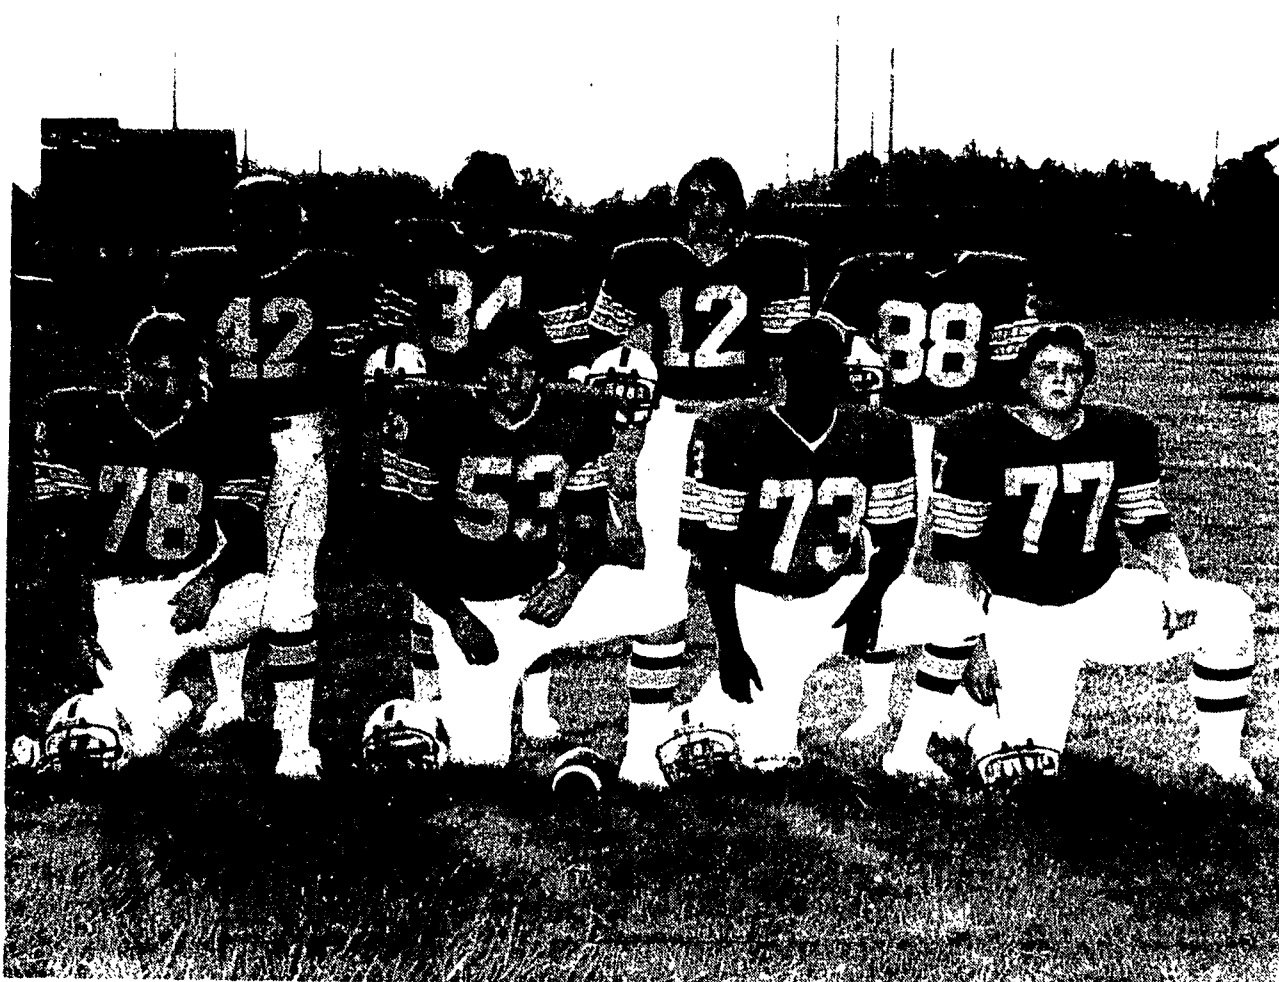

Another big plus on offense for Ole Miss is the return of wide receiver James "Pearl" Harbour, who suffered a pre-season injury and received a "hardship" to give him another year of eligibility.

Moffett and Holder finished 2-3 in receiving a year ago with 35 and 25 receptions respectively, while Humphrey was the second leading ground gainer with 536 yards in 138 carries.

Thirty-nine lettermen return off last year's team, which finished 6-5 during the regular season, and gave Ole Miss its first on-the-field winning mark since 1975. A bid to play Air Force in the Independence Bowl ended a 12-year drought in post-season appearances. Also, the Rebs finished 4-2 inside the southeastern Conference to tie for 3rd place in the league standings.

Ole Miss will open the 1984 campaign in Oxford against Memphis State and will play three of its first four games on campus.

Haeusler enters third Eagle season

Over the years the University of Southern Mississippi's Nasty Bunch defense has had outstanding individuals as leaders. They have included players like nose guard Jerald Baylis, linebacker Clump Taylor, cornerback Hanford Dixon, and end George "Too Tall" Tillman—to mention a few. One of the leaders for 1984 will be senior linebacker Greg Haeusler of Destin, Fla.

Haeusler is beginning his third year as a starter for the Golden Eagles after replacing the injured Greg Kelley in the starting lineup early in the 1982 campaign. Last season Haeusler recorded 46 solo tackles and 44 assists, posted two tackles for losses and made two interceptions while helping the Eagles rank sixth in the nation in total defense by allowing only 273.8 yards per game.

"I feel like I must be a leader," the veteran linebacker said recently. "I've always had someone older than me to provide me with good leadership and finally it has become my turn to lead the younger players."

Although the Eagles lost two of their top three linebackers from last year (Kelley with 118 tackles and Rod O'Barr with 67), Haeusler feels that the team will again be strong at the position.

"Greg Dampier (who moves back to LB after a year at end), is a heckuva a ball player, and you have Eric Redd and Sidney Coleman who were both red-shirted last year and have the potential to be great ones as they improve and gain game experience. I think we'll be pretty strong at linebacker," he said.

Haeusler is expecting the Eagles to play well in 1984 and is anxiously looking forward to the season opener on Sept. 8 at Georgia. This year's team is in good shape according to the Eagle linebacker, and might be the largest and strongest in recent years.

"They had us on a pretty strict weight and running program and we had a good off-season," the three-year letterman said. "We've always had a good off-season but this year was especially good. We had a good running program and just looking at our team you can tell the difference in size and speed. The players have gained. I feel this will probably be the biggest and strongest football team we've had."

Haeusler and his Eagle teammates are currently engaged in two-a-day drills preparing for the opener against the Georgia Bulldogs, a team that has participated in four consecutive major bowl games, captured three Southeastern Conference titles, finished in the nation's top five and posted a record of 43-4-1 over the past four years.

Grenada bass tourney winners

Jeff Magee of Clinton won the $1,450 first place prize in the fifth Mississippi Division bass fishing event on the Red Man Tournament Trail Sunday on Grenada Lake.

Magee, a 23-year-old insurance agent, caught seven fish weighing 18 pounds, 12 ounces. The fish came on a lunker lure on Red Grass Creek.

The sixth and final Mississippi Division event is scheduled for Sept. 9 on Ross Barnett near Jackson. Entry deadline is Aug. 29. To enter, call or write Operation Bass, Rt. 2, Box 74B, Gilbertsville, KY 42044. Telephone (502) 362-4880.

The $724 second place prize on Grenada Lake went to Ricky Rice of Memphis, his seven fish weighed 17 pounds, 12 ounces and came on a Bill Jasper jig and fish formula. He was fishing the north end of the lake. Rice, 34, is self-employed.

Bo Turner of Memphis won the $632 third place prize with five fish weighing 16 pounds, 6 ounces. He flipped a Bootleg jig near shallow structures in the north end of the lake. Turner, 33, is an employee of Three Star Muffler Shop.

Wayne Monk, 37, of North Biloxi, and Jim McKay, 49, of Brandon, tied for fourth. Each caught 16 pounds, 5 ounces of fish.

John Hodges of Olive Branch won the $464 Big Bass prize with a lunker weighing 6 pounds, 3 ounces. Hodges was using a black and gray Gil Raker worm.

A field of 116 anglers competed for $4,350 in total prize money on Grenada Lake.

All Red Man events feature the catch and release system. Each live fish brought to the scale is worth two bonus ounces.

The top 24 Mississippi Division fishermen after the six qualifying tournaments will compete in a regional event, scheduled for Oct. 5-7 on Eufaula Lake near Eufaula, Ala.

Sponsors of the Red Man trail award regional winners with a Dodge Ram Tough truck and a Ranger bass boat equipped with an Evinrude XP 150, a Motor-Guide trolling motor, two Humminbird depth finders, a Humminbird chart recorder and GNB's Action Pack/Super Crank batteries.

Each region's top 12 fishermen qualify for the Red Man All American Bass Championship, scheduled for Oct. 30-Nov. 3 on the Kissimmee Chain near Orlando, Fla. The winner earns $100,000.

Former USM athletes win awards

Former University of Southern Mississippi athletes Steve Carmody and Lauri White were recently named recipients of medallions presented by the Metro Conference for outstanding classroom and athletic achievement at Conference schools.

The medallion is the highest award given by the Metro, although it is not mandatory that an institution present the award annually. Louisville and South Carolina had no nominees this year.

The criteria for the honor includes completion of athletic eligibility and graduation within that same year with a 3.0 grade point average.

Carmody was a four-year football letterman at center for the Golden Eagles from 1981-83. He handled all long snaps on punts, field goals and extra points without a single bad snap during the four seasons. His athletic achievements include being named the outstanding offensive player for the Auburn game (1982) and the outstanding special team player against Alabama (1980), Tulane (1981) and Mississippi State (1983).

For his four years as a student pursuing a major in accounting, the son of Coach and Mrs. Jim Carmody had a 3.89 grade point average. He was in several honor societies at USM and he attained membership in the QDK Gold Key Society (He was selected the top male freshman student on campus) in his first year.

Carmody was awarded a $2,000 post-graduate scholarship by the NCAA last winter and is currently using the scholarship to attend law school at Southern Methodist University, where he is also a graduate assistant coach under former USM head coach Bobby Collins.

White was a four-year letter winner in tennis at USM while earning a degree in athletic administration and coaching. She was named to the President's List and the Dean's List the past four years, was in Phi Kappa Phi, Omicron Delta Kappa and Phi Delta Rho, and served as the vice-president of Kappa Delta Sorority. In 1983 she was awarded the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation's outstanding scholastic achievement award.

The Ocean Springs native is currently working on a master's degree at USM in exercise physiology and will serve this season as a graduate assistant coach for the Lady Eagle tennis team.

Other winners of the conference medallions included Cincinnati's Joseph Gerety (track) and Michelle Sohner (swimming); Florida State's Robert Miles (basketball) and Sally Summer (volleyball); Memphis State's Nancy Ammann (gymnastics); Tulane's Robert Killen (swimming); and Virginia Tech's Michael Johnson (football) and Virginia Lee Lessman (volleyball).

Of Seals and Bureaucracies

The U.S. Senate has an opportunity to act to save seals and tax dollars by voting to end a commercial treaty which keeps the federal government in the fur business. 85% of the American people want the slaughter of seals stopped, as revealed by a recent public opinion poll. The facts show that to be good judgment.

The focus of the commercial treaty are the fur seals which breed on U.S. public land, Alaska's Pribilof Islands which are about 800 miles from Anchorage in the Bering Sea. During July the U.S. Department of Commerce contracted out the kill of 22,000 fur seals, despite their statistics that the seal population is waning rapidly.

The treaty was first initiated in 1911 to stop the Japanese from killing seals in the open water (called "pelagic sealing") just at the then 3-mile coastal limit of the Islands, that being the only place seals gather in mass numbers to make a pelagic kill economically feasible. Today the U.S. 200-mile limit protect seals from pelagic kill, except that which is done "incidental to fishing." Japan and Canada and many other nations today hold treaties to fish in U.S. waters and all those treaties contain clauses permitting the take of marine mammals—many thousands of seals, porpoise, etc.—in the huge fishing nets which came into vogue in the 1960's.

In addition, Commerce reports that lost and discarded fishing gear entangles and drowns about 50,000 fur seals annually, as well as tens of thousands of other marine mammals. Millions of tons of such non-biodegradable gear are afloat in the seas. Since clearing the oceans of such debris is unlikely, that permanent danger is an additional call for halting the land kill of seals.

With the collapse of the seal skin fur market and little revenue from the sale of fur, the taxpayer has been picking up the tab for the kill—about $10 million a year: $5 to $7 million for living expenses for a work force held on the barren lava rocks and $5 million in salaries and expenses for about 52 stateside bureaucrats who work full- or part-time at Commerce and State managing the deficit fur business. The bureaucracy, of course, promotes renewal of the commercial treaty since their jobs are at stake. But all justification has disappeared.

The 600 people who reside on the Islands and provide a work-force of 80 for about 5 weeks' work in the year slaughtering seals have been generously endowed by the taxpayer to promote their independence. Under the 1971 Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act the Congress required the formation of corporations which were then given cash settlements to erase future claims. The Corporations of the 600 Russian-Aleuts on the Pribilofs, Tanadgusik and Tanaq, received $3.5 million in 1971. Since that time Tanadgusik has been granted, for private investment, the following: $8.5 million in 1978 as a court settlement for mistreatment by the bureaucrats; $7.5 million in 1980-2 to buy back as public land the bird rookeries mistakenly given the corporation in 1971; and $20 million in 1983 for economic development. A total of $39.5 million invested at current interest rates is a nice nest-egg for the 600 Pribilofians who are stockholders.

In sum, the Americans on the Pribilof Islands have been freed. The Senate must now act to free the seals and the tax-payer by getting Uncle Sam out of the seals' nursery and the fur business. In this totally non-partisan issue, we should expect the Senate to vote against renewing the commercial treaty which forces the kill of seals on their U.S. breeding grounds.

Football parking rules unchanged at Ole Miss

Parking at University of Mississippi home football games this season will fall under the same regulations in effect for the past three years, according to Ole Miss officials.

The university will host four games at Vought-Hemingway Stadium on the Oxford campus this fall, including the season-opening Memphis State contest Sept. 8. Also scheduled are Louisiana Tech., Sept. 22; Tulane (Homecoming), Sept. 29; and Auburn, Oct. 6.

According to Doyle L. Russell, vice chancellor for administration, car parking and picnicking will be permitted in The Grove only if the area is dry by game weekend. The grove will be closed to all vehicles in the event of rain. Special parking for campers will be provided in the School of Education parking lot and C. M. "Tad" Smith Coliseum parking lots. Campers will not be permitted in The Grove.

The Circle is permanently closed to all vehicles, but picnicking is permitted. Picnic tables will be provided in both The Grove and The Circle.

FOOTBALL TICKETS

A discount price on tickets to Tiger football games is available to students at Bay St. Louis schools, according to Bay High Athletic Director Wilmer Seymour.

Student tickets purchased at the stadium gate cost $3, the same price as adult tickets, but if they are purchased at school prior to the game they may be bought for $2.

Season tickets are also available and anyone interested in buying one can contact Seymour at 467-7951.

BAY LIFE

The Chesapeake Bay supports some 2,700 species of animal life, says the National Wildlife Federation. Some of the most notably edible bay creatures are: oysters, clams, crabs, flounder, bluefish, eels, sea trout, croakers, shad, striped bass and herring.

BEES' VIEW

Bees and other insects seem to prefer blue and violet flowers to red ones, says 'International Wildlife' magazine, probably because the insects do not see the color red as well.

SURFACE EFFECT SHIP—Bell Halter Inc. of New Orleans has entered into an Agreement whereby Offshore GAC Services, Ltd., will charter a 110-foot surface effect ship (SES) to transport personnel and supplies to oil rigs in the Gulf of Suez, offshore Egypt. John J. Kelly, president of Bell Halter, said the vessel, M/V Margaret Jill, is scheduled to depart New Orleans and begin operations in Egypt before the end of this year. Offshore GAC Services' primary operations are in the Middle East. The Bell Halter SES is an air-supported craft with catamaran-style rigid sidehulls. A cushion of air trapped between sidehulls and flexible bow and stern seals lifts a large part of the sidehulls clear of the water to reduce drag, thereby producing greater efficiency and higher speed. The lower parts of the sidehulls remain in the water to aid in stability and maneuverability of the craft. Aside from their use in the offshore oil industry, Bell Halter SESs are also employed by the U.S. Coast Guard for patrol, search and rescue, and drug interdiction missions in the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, and by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for hydrographic survey work in the Northwestern United States.

Fall cabin reservations being taken at parks

To a lot of people, fall is the best time to visit a Mississippi state park. The days are cooler, the facilities are not as crowded, and the turning leaves offer one of nature's most spectacular events.

Many people also find that a short weekend vacation at a state park helps make the transition into the hectic fall schedule easier.

Fourteen state parks have cabins available for the weekend by advance reservation. Beginning September 16 only a two-day stay is required rather than the three-day minimum in effect during the heavy use season.

State park cabins range from rustic to deluxe, but all cabins are completely furnished with hot and cold showers, air conditioning and heat, and some have fireplaces. All cabins have complete kitchen facilities with cooking utensils and serving dishes.

Whether for a weekend or a week, a fall vacation at a Mississippi state park is sure to be a beneficial break in the fall routine.

For a listing of all Mississippi state parks, along with a fee schedule, write Fall in the Parks, Post Office Box 20305, Jackson, MS 39209, or call (601)961-5014.

Ole Miss media guide to be sold to public

Ole Miss will once again offer its annual football media guide for public sale at various locations throughout Mississippi and west Tennessee.

"Although the guide is designed to assist members of the media who cover the Rebels in 1984, it has become very popular with our fans," said Langston Rogers, assistant athletic director for sports information.

The 1984 guide sells for $6 and may be purchased through the Office of Sports Information at Ole Miss or at magazine stands throughout Mississippi and in west Tennessee.

All mail orders should be directed to Sports Information Office, Box 217, University, MS 38677. A mailing fee of $1.50 should be included with each order.

For additional information or pre-registration, contact Virginia B. Newbern, director of the Continuing Education Program of the University of Southern Mississippi School of Nursing, Southern Station, Box 5194, Hattiesburg, Ms. 39406, or phone (601) 266-5446.

Mobile hospital to treat kidney stones with sound

Springhill Memorial Hospital in Mobile, Ala., will become the fifth hospital in the U.S. to get a kidney lithotripter (litho-trip-ter).

The German-made machine, considered experimental until now, uses sound waves to disintegrate kidney stones.

"Lithotripsy requires only a three- to four-day hospital stay compared with a twelve- to fifteen-day stay for surgical stone removal," explains Tony Daigle, administrator at Springhill. "And, you can go back to work after the short hospital stay—there's no recuperation period," he adds. "With surgical removal there's a recuperation period of three to four weeks."

"We recognized that there was a strong need among the citizens of south Alabama, southeast Mississippi and the Panhandle of Florida for a lithotripter to be located in Mobile," explains Dr. Gerald Wallace, chairman of the board at Springhill Memorial. "We had already studied the need for a lithotripter and analyzed how it should be used in Alabama on a cost effective regionalized basis," he points out.

Springhill was the only hospital in the state providing research data and information to the state Planning and Development Committee at its hearing on kidney lithotripsy and was instrumental in getting the state health plan changed to include Mobile as a second site for a lithotripter.

Alabamians average 21.54 kidney stones per thousand people or about 1,200 stones per year. Daigle expects 600 to 700 patients each year in Mobile. However, he says all of them will not come from Alabama. "We will serve southeast Mississippi and the Panhandle of Florida as well as lower Alabama."

Mobile urologist Dr. Bill Cooner, who helped get the lithotripter for Mobile, explains that Alabama is in the Southern Stone Belt. "We're seventh in the nation in per capita incidence of kidney stones," he notes.

Cooner says once a person has a stone, he or she is a likely candidate for another stone.

"Each time a kidney is operated on the procedure becomes more formidable, increasing the likelihood of possible kidney loss. But with lithotripsy there doesn't appear to be a limit to the number of stones that can be disintegrated without kidney damage," he says.

The procedure requires lowering the patient into a tub of water, aligning the kidney stone by use of a special x-ray device, then using sound waves to break up the crystalline structure of the stone.

This concept can be loosely compared with an opera singer shattering a piece of crystal, he notes.

The pulverized stone is then passed. There is no damage to internal organs or tissue and the patient can immediately return to work.

The lithotripter (Greek for stone crusher) was invented by Dornier, a German aircraft company. The machine has been experimental in the U.S. for the last couple of years and is expected to receive pre-market approval by the FDA this year.

Daigle says he's excited that Mobile and Springhill will be getting this highly sophisticated piece of medical equipment.

"Dr. Wallace has personally made three trips to Germany and was successful in getting a commitment from Dornier for a machine within the next 12 months. We were originally told it would be 1988 before Mobile could have a lithotripter. We have also sent area urologists and hospital support personnel to observe the procedure at an Indianapolis hospital," Daigle notes.

"We're convinced that this is one of the most technologically advanced medical devices and we're pleased that Springhill Memorial Hospital can bring it to the area urologists and residents of the Gulf Coast."

"We're people helping people return to the good life," Wallace proclaims. "Bringing this innovation to Mobile is another demonstration that Springhill Hospital is the pioneer, the innovator and the leader in health care in southwest Alabama."

KIDNEY STONE TREATMENT—A kidney lithotripter, a new machine designed to use sound waves to disintegrate kidney stones, allows treatment without surgery. Patients treated by this method can return to work the day after leaving the hospital.

MISSISSIPPI ANIMAL RESCUE LEAGUE

4395 South Drive

Jackson MS 39209

(601) 969-1631

A non-profit corporation chartered by the State of Mississippi. October
1969 for the prevention of cruelty to animals

SHELTER

Pets left outside must have a shady place to rest and lots of fresh water kept in the shade (a bowl of hot water in the blazing sun is worthless).
A pet will collapse from heat very quickly on a hot day and can suffer brain damage or even death. If your cat or dog is an indoor pet, do not leave him outside more than a few minutes at a time if air conditioning is available indoors.

VENOMOUS INSECTS

In general venomous insect bites (bees, wasps, spiders, etc.) are painful, cause swelling and some skin destruction; however, if the animal is hypersensitized to the venom, death could occur due to shock and respiratory problems.
If your pet is stung by an insect, call your veterinarian immediately. Putting ice on the area of the sting may help keep the venom local while you transport the animal to the hospital.
